AN IMPORTANT CASE. -The case of the Ex change Bank of Virginia, for the use of Geo. W. Camp, trustee, vs. John S. Knox, jr , and John S. Knox, endorsers for B. F. Voss and others, noticed in the report of the proceedings of the Circuit Court in yesterday's Gazette, is of great interest to the people of this State The main point involved in the case is whether or not the trustee of the Bank is obliged to take from the debtors of the Bank, the bills of the Bank, purchased after the assignment, in payment of their liabilities. This question involves an immense amount, probably not less than a million of dollars; and it is contended on behalf of the debtors, that the section in the case which provides that the Bank shall receive its own bills in payment of debts due the Bank, alludes to the contract, and goes with it into the hands of an assigned for value. It is also contended that the assignment of the assets of the Bank under the act of the Legislature of Virginia, passed February 12, 1866, is not such as would make the trustees, or the beneficiaries under the trust, assignees for value. The act of February, 12, 1866, it is contended, was intended by the Legislature to afford the necessary machinery to wind up the Bank, thereby dispensing with the organization under its charter; they, therefore, insist that it was not intended, and does not alter or abridge the provisions in the Code, which makes it obligatory upon the Bank to receive its own paper in payment of debts due the bank. At the time the loan was made to the defendants they contend that the notes tendered in payment had been issued, and the obligation of the Bank to take them in payment, for such loan, formed a part of the contract, which it would be unconstitutional to impair by any subsequent legislation. The notes tendered were issued and in circulation prior to the assignment, and were, by legislative enactment, stamped with the condition that they should be taken in payment. In Woodruff vs. Traporail, 10th Howard, page 207, the Supreme Court of the United States held that a State cannot impair by legislation its own contracts-a fortiori, the contracts of individuals or private corporations. The question presented, it is contended, is not one of debt and set off. The law regards the note tendered as money, and the right to make payment to the Bank in its own paper arises out of a continuing contract, which cannot be el fected by legislation or any act of the Bank .-The defendants assert that at the time the assignment was made the assignees knew the condition of the Bank, and that there was a large amount of its paper circulating, and that up to the date of the deed the Bank was receiving its circulation in payments of debts due it. The defendants further contend that there was sufficient notice to the assignees of the rights of the holders of the notes, and that the assignment was taken in subordination of these rights. It is insisted on behalf of the creditors of the Bank, that under the act of 1866, requiring the Bank to go into liquidation for the benefit of the creditors, pro rata, that the trustee is an assignee for value-and that bills of the Bank, purchased after the assignment, cannot be offset in an action upon the assigned rates; that if this were the case, the purpose of the act would be defeated, and great injus tice done, as in that event the debtor would receive one hundred cents in the dollar for the bills held by him -- while other creditors would get little or nothing; that the provision in the code only applies to cases where the Bank was the holder of the note, and was provided merely to prevent circuity of action-for as the Bank was obliged to redeem its bills in gold and silver-the Bank could not be permitted to deny that they were a legal tender-the effect of which would be to force the debtor to present the bills of the Bank for redemption, and with the very specie thus obtained from the Bank, pay his indebtedness to the Bank; that if the debtor to the Bank who re ceivs full value was permitted to pay his debt at fifteen cents in the dollar, by which the trus tee would be enabled to pay the creditor who had given full value, only fifteen centerin the GERMAN CO-OPERATIVE BUILDING ASSO-CIATION. - The organization of the German Co operative Building Association will, as the Alexandria Building Association has been already, be speedily perfected. A meeting of the committee to report by-laws and a constitution for the government of the Association will be held to-morrow in the rooms of the Eintracht, in Washington Hall. The election of permanent officers will be held in a short time.

for the defendant, and the case is held under advisement by the court.

SLATE MANUFACTURING COMPANY. - A company was organized in Washington yesterday, to cut alate from a quarry situated on the banks of the Potomac river, below this city. Its offioers are Stephen D. Castleman, President; W. W. Danenhower, Secretary, and S. A. Peugh, Treasurer. These officers with W. B. Moore, andria, compose the Board of Directors.

CIRCUIT COURT-Friday .- Authory Me-Lean, trustee vs. William Johnson et al -in chancery—it was ordered that so much of the decree of May 26th, 1866, as directs the property to be sold at public auction, be rescinded, and that J. W. Burke, the said Anthony Mc-Loan, declining to act, now appoint d commissioner, make sale to C. F. Suttle or his assigns, on the following terms, to wit: $4,000 in cach, $1 000 in six month s $1 000 in eight e months, and $1,000 in ewenty-four months, and uponpayment of said $4,000, the commissioner is directed to convey the premises an said Suttle or assigns, and take a deed of trust for the deferred payments. It appearing to the court from the deid conveying the property to Authony McLean, that it is to be held in trust for the use of Maria McLean, wife of Samual Mc Lean, during her life, and after her death to be divided among her children, the court further oidered that J. W. Burke be substituted in the place of Anthony McLean, as trustee, and that before receiving any money from said purchas r to give bond in the penalty of $10,000. Jas. Horner vs. J. R. Smoot and C. C. Smoot - in covenant - the jury rendered a ver die for the defendant-the plaintiff motioned for a new trial upon the ground that the verdict was contrary to law and the evidence motion sustained, and a new trial granted. J. R. Masters vs William Hecht-in ease and upon attachment-jury could not agree, and were discharged, and case continued. 1st National Bank of Alexandria vs L D Harmon-in case-judgment against defendant for $2,002 42, with interest thereon from Dec.

231, 1865, and costs. The court adjourned till 10 o'clock to day. Court will finally adjourn this evening.

GEORGETOWN BRANCH OF THE A., L. & H. R. R.-In the Washington Board of Aldermen on Thursday night last, Mr. Hyde reported that the Secretary of War had refused to detail an engineer to make the surveys required to bring into the city the branch to be constructed from the Loudoun and Hampshire railroad. All that the secretary could do in the matter was to give an officer leave of absence on half pay.

Mr. Thomas made a motion that the stand ing committee be instructed to inquire into the propriety of employing a civil engineer to nake the required survey and to report to the Board the result.

Mr. Hyde said that it was well to consult the feelings of the people of Washington, who wished a United States engineer. The motion was carried.

DEAR HACK HIRE ALL AROUND .- On Thursday night last, a Washington hack driver named Edward Flaherty, drove a party to this city, and charged them ten dollars for the His store is No. 511, 7th street, Intelligences On his return to Washington, he fell in with a man named Adams, who seized him around his neck with one arm and fastened on to his ear with his teeth. While Flaherty was endeavoring to extricate himself from this painful predicament, Adams, with his other hand, went down into his pocket and robbed him of the money.

ALEXANDRIA CANAL AQUEDUCT. -The work on the Alexandria Canal aqueduct bridge, says the Washington Star, is hindered for want of the iron keys used in locking the frame work of the structure. A few weeks ago a colored man stole most of them, and they were found in his possession, and accordingly turned over to the property clerk of the Metropolitan Police, to await the result of the trial.

ICE TRAVELLING. - Travel on the solid ice of the Potomac is now common—and sleds are used to carry bulky articles from shore to shore. People from the lower end of Charles county; in Maryland, and Fairfax county, in Virginia, come up to town and return, on the ice. The natives of Alaska would, if they were now here, find the climate and the ice entirely con-

CRIES OF MURDER. - This morning, between the hours of four and five o'clock, persons residing on Columbus and Alfred streets, between King and Prince, were startled by the cry of murder, coming from a man who was running out of the alley connecting the two last mentioned streets. Nothing has since been heard respecting the affair.

CAUTION. - A man, under the influence of liquor, was found sitting on the front stone steps of a house in the upper part of the town last night, nearly frozen. It is believed that in a little time he would have frozen to death. These are not the nights for drunken men to be lying about the streets.

CHROMATIC EXHIBITION. - Posters on the street corners announce that Barnett's chro matic and stereoptic pictures will be exhibited at Liberty Hall, in this city, on the evenings of Monday and Tuesday next the 10th and 11th FAIR. - The ladies fair for the benefit of the Friendship Fire Company, which has been in progress in the Assembly Rooms for the last two weeks, will close to night with an Auction of all the various, numerous, and useful and onamental articles remaining unsold.

DISTURBANCES .- A disturbance occurred near the upper end of King street, last night, between some young men; and one yesterday evening in a house near the Ferry Slip, but both had been quieted when the police arrived.

WASHINGTON AMUSEMENT. - A large num ber of ladies and gentleman from this city, visited Washington last night for the purpose of listening to Mr. Dickens' last reading in that city, and to attend the opera and theatre.

WATCH HOUSE. - The severe weather , prevailing last night, induced five homeless individuals, only one of whom, however, belonged to this city, to apply for, and be accommodated with lodgings, at the watch house.

THE WEATHER. - This morning is thought to have been the sharpest of the winter. Just before and just after sunrise, the cold was intense. The sun, however, shone out brightly, and it has been a fine winter's day.

OYSTERS. - What few oysters are now in town, we believe, are bought in Washington, of Washington, and George Johnston, of Alex- to which city they are transported over land Golden Syrup, extra, for sale low by J. C. MILBURN. from Baltimore and Annapolis.

SECOND PRESBYTERIAN CHUICH - At a Presbyterian Church, held 'ast night in the Second SHERIFF'S SALE. church edifice, corn r of Princ; and St. Asai h street, of which Mr. E F. Witmer was Chairman, and H. O. Claughtor, Secretary, a preamble and series of resolution ; setting forth of Legg's Livery Sta' les, Washington street, the great benefits that have accrued to the church since the present pastor the Rev. J. T. L fewich has had charge of it, and urging that gentleman, if con-istent with his se se of duty, to decline a distinguished call that has been tendered him by the church in Staunt n, were unanimously adopted.

THE MARKET this morning, was but poorly supplied with country produce. The butchers had an excellent supply of fresh meats of all kinds. Prices remain as before. Pooltry is scarce an I high-turkeys offered at 28 a 30 cts per lb. At this figure turkeys will be slow of sale. Butter and eggs as before.

GAME. - Partridg s are abundant in the Frederick-burg market at from 16 to 20 cts. a piece; rabbits at 20 to 25 e's, a piece; wild turkeys 20 cts. a pound. There were some fine large rabbits for sale in the A'exandria market this morning at 25 ets. a piece.

DEAD .- John Hepburn, the colored man who fell from the railroad car, and was run over by them on Monday last, died this morning from the effects of the injuries he had re

ERRATA. - There were various typographical errors in yesterday's Gaze te, which tried the patience of the editor, as much as they must have offended the eye and "sense of spelling" of the reader. Aqueduct, in two places in the account of the Canal Meeting was spelled, Aguduct. In the beautiful Impromptu Poetry, Luna was twice spelled Lunra, &c In the account of the Canal meeting, also, it should have been stated that the preamble and resolutions offered were unanimously adopted, with the omission of one word—and not, "with a few verbal alterations."

POLICE REPORT. -- MAYOR'S OFFICE. --Young and Company, hucksters, for forestallng were arrested and will be tried this evening. MAGISTRATES' OFFICE. - A colored man, arrested on the charge of horse stealing, was discharge for want of evidence.
